A fun drama game with the main objective of trying to make members of the group laugh.

- Students stand in a circle and the first nominated student stands in the middle.
- The student in the middle needs to approach another student and say: 'Honey, if you love me, give me a smile.'
- And without laughing or smiling (with a neutral expression), that second student must say: 'Honey, you know I love you, but I just can't smile.'
- If the person from the middle of the circle manages to make another student smile, they switch places, and the smiling student must try to get someone else to smile.
- If they do not get a smile, they need to try someone else.
